

King Living Introduces the King Cinema Premiere Recliner: The Ultimate Cinematic Comfort for Your Living Room

King Living is proud to unveil its latest innovation in luxury living, the King Cinema Premiere Recliner, designed to transform the living room into an immersive personal cinema. The new King Cinema Premiere builds on the brand's expertise and success with the state-of-the-art King Cloud Recliner collection.

Founder David King stated: "King Cinema represents a new level of comfort and innovation – customers can create their own personal cinema experience without leaving the living room."

King Cinema Premiere introduces a seamless combination of advanced technology and superior comfort. This state-of-the-art recliner features TouchGlide® control, which allows users to effortlessly adjust the headrest and footrest with a simple swipe. Users can also customise and save their preferred seating position for instant access to a perfectly tailored relaxation experience. Smart Pockets™ integrated into the armrests offer convenient storage for remotes and devices while supporting the integration of smart accessories, including the LED Lume Light, Speaker Bracket and Wireless Charging Tables, enhancing both functionality and convenience.

The recliner also includes an innovative gas-lift media console, which discreetly stores media devices and cables, keeping the living room clutter-free. The modular design ensures that King Cinema Premiere can be customised to fit any living space, with flexibility to adapt as your lifestyle evolves.

The tailored covers, available in a wide range of premium fabrics and European leathers, can be removed for professional cleaning or replaced, ensuring the recliner maintains its pristine appearance over time.

"King Cinema Premiere not only brings the luxury of a private cinema into your home; it's also thoughtfully designed to contour to your body for enhanced support and stress relief - an ideal combination for today's busy lifestyles," said Founder David King.

Built to deliver lasting comfort and support, King Cinema Premiere is equipped with the renowned King Postureflex® Seating System, supported by a durable King Steel Frame, which is backed by a 25-year warranty. The seating system incorporates KingCell® pocket springs with high-resilience foam for unmatched softness and durability. Enhanced safety features include guarded moving parts, an infrared auto-stop, and anti-pinch sleeves within the footrest, ensuring both safety and peace of mind.

For those seeking cordless operation, the powered recliner can run on an optional rechargeable Li-ion Battery Pack 1800, sold separately, adding another layer of convenience to the user experience. Soft-touch feet caps protect flooring from scratches, making the recliner ideal for a variety of home environments.

Designed and manufactured exclusively by King Living, the King Cinema Premiere Recliner represents a new standard in reclining furniture, combining smart technology with sophisticated style. With the first model, King Cinema Premiere, now released and additional models set to follow, King Living continues to lead the way in functional, innovative, and luxurious home furniture.

The King Cinema Premiere is now available at King Living showrooms and online. For more information, please visit <https://www.kingliving.com.au/shop/living/sofas/king-cinema-recliner>
